PRESENTATION.

Inspection and Drill of the Knights of St. John.

The Knights of St. John, commanded by Col. P. J. Breen and Adjutant Clem Wiegand, were given their annual inspection and drill Monday night at Phoenix Hill Park, and they presented a most creditable appearance. The inspection was conducted by Col. Henry Felthoff and former Adjutant Blocher. Col. Felthoff complimented the commanders upon their efficiency and soldierly bearing, and expressed regret that it was impossible for Col. John H. Whallen to be present and review the regiment. Exhibition drills followed, during which a handsome gold badge was presented to former Major H. A. Vonderheid, Past Commander of St. Martin's Commandery. There was a large gathering of interested people present to witness the Knights go through their evolutions and enjoy the dancing that followed. The Knights of St. John are making progress everywhere, and Col. Breen and Adjutant Wiegand are making strong efforts to increase the enlistments in Louisville.

JOCKEY CLUB.

Ready For Greatest Race Meeting Ever Held Here.

The Louisville Jockey Club is in every way ready for the one great holiday looked forward to with the most pleasant anticipation by all true Kentuckians—Derby day at Churchill Downs. Col. Matt Winn has left nothing undone for the comfort of those who will witness the Derby this afternoon, when at least 50,000 people are expected, or on any one of the other fourteen days of the meeting. The interest shown in the Derby and the opening day will be rewarded by sport of the highest character. That they will not be disappointed is indicated by the fact that each race will be contested by the fleetest thoroughbreds of the American turf. The Derby eligibles are The Manager, Worth, Sonada, Free Lance, Guarana, Wheelwright, Patuche, Flamma, Dilatory, Sir Blaise, Duval and Chief Lindsey, which assures the greatest contest ever witnessed in this classic event.

For next week four great stake events are announced—the Debutante stakes on Tuesday, the Tobacco stakes on Wednesday, the Bashford Manor stakes on Thursday and the Clark handicap on Saturday. Judge Charles F. Pries, Charles P. Grainger and Will Shelley will be in the judges' stand, and this is a guarantee that there will be only honest racing. With favorable weather this will be the greatest race meeting ever held in Kentucky and will bring thousands of visitors to Louisville.

ST. AUGUSTINE'S.

The solemn and devotional ceremonies at St. Augustine's church for colored Catholics last Sunday will long be remembered by those who saw them. After the usual courses of instruction and three days of special preparation fifty-one children received their Lord for the first time, and just before the mass fifteen children and one adult were baptized. Many parents and other relatives followed the children to the holy table. In the evening at 7:30 o'clock the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue administered the sacrament of confirmation to ninety-seven persons, of whom ten were converted. In his own kind and fatherly way the Bishop exhorted the children to remain faithful to the salutary lessons taught them by their kind and zealous pastor, Rev. Father Francis Felten, who had erected their beautiful church and labored so faithfully and earnestly for them. The choir deserves special praise, as its efforts were earnest and successful.

DOING NICELY.

Joseph Gathof, who was thought to be fatally injured in an elevator accident in the Anzeiger building and has been confined to St. Joseph's Infirmary for a number of months, was able to leave his bed for the first time on Wednesday. His many relatives and friends are rejoiced to see him able to be up in his chair, and now entertain hopes that he will again be with them. Mr. Gathof did the presswork on the Kentucky Irish American and Anzeiger, and for some time his injuries were such that but little hope was had for his recovery. The foregoing will be welcome news to his legion of friends throughout the city.

MASS MEETING.

Charles Hill, who with other members of the Catholic Knights of America has been visiting the local branches of that order, will call a mass meeting for May 22 at St. Mary's Hall, where formal arrangements will be made for the part to be taken in the Catholic Federation convention to be held here next August. The Central Committee and the officers and members of all

APPROVED.

Hibernians Will Be Prominent in Federation Parade.

Division 1, A. O. H., held an enthusiastic meeting Tuesday night, presided over by President Martin Cusick, with Daniel McCarthy assisting him as Vice President. There was a good attendance of members and one candidate was obligated. County President Dolan reported the proceedings of the County Board, after which all present pledged to work earnestly for the June celebration at Phoenix Hill Park. Tickets for this occasion were distributed, and it is predicted that this year this pleasure resort will be thronged as never before. Secretary Tompkins was instructed to notify the Catholic Federation of the appointment of Messrs. Daniel McCarthy, William M. Higgins, Thomas Tarry and Thomas Walsh as representatives. Reports from the Federation were heard and all present approved the suggestion that the County Board be represented by a float. Thomas Tarry delivered an excellent address, and from opening to close the proceedings were full of interest. A cordial greeting was given Treasurer Thomas Lawler, who was present after a rather serious illness.

BEAUTIFIED.

Churchill Downs and Its Many Agreeable Changes.

The thousands of people who will be at Churchill Downs today to attend the spring race meeting of the Louisville Jockey Club, the feature of which will be the thirty-eighth renewal of the Kentucky Derby, will walk in an atmosphere agreeable and unclunged at old Churchill Downs, but there will be many changes agreeable to the eye, yet retaining the sentiment hovering over the place and which for some unknown but kindly reason makes it different from other race tracks. On the front lawn will be beds of dainty flowers artistically trimmed overgreens and palms lining the entrance to the grandstand. This structure will be bright in fresh green and white. But at the club house it will be found that the most extensive transformation has been wrought. On the roof over the promenade, where the beauty and the chivalry of the whole country have on so many occasions formed such gay scenes, there will be colonial style boxes, extending the entire length of the club house. Each box will seat as many as ten persons, and will be snow white and decorated. Here will be representatives of highest society extending from the four corners of the republic. From this elevated position the guests may view the races without any obstruction whatever, never losing sight of the horses from start to finish at any part of the course.

RIVERVIEW OPENING.

With a variety of amusements, holding one huge treat for thousands of men, women and children of Louisville, Riverview Park, appropriately referred to as "Joyland long the river," will open for the summer season tomorrow. Don Philipini, the celebrated bandmaster, "the man with many medals," with his band of thirty-five high class artists, has signed a contract for the entire season. Don Philipini personally will direct the music and concerts will be given every afternoon and evening. The theater will also be opened with a mamee Sunday. A stock company of high class players, all widely known in theatrical circles throughout the United States, has been engaged for the entire season. Miss Lillian Rhodes, leading woman; Edward Woodruff, leading man; Alice Learn, in the ingenue roles; E. H. Horner, George Fox, as director and comedian; Philip Lord, character man and stage manager; Ethel Slack, for the soubrette roles, and Helen Gillinwater, character woman, are some of the people engaged, and form a combination of the plans of rare talent. Performances will be given each evening at 8:30.

AGAIN IN FRONT.

John Leverone, well known and for many years engaged in business here, but for the past year a resident of the county, has returned to the city and engaged in the cafe business on the west side of Third street, near Market. Mr. Leverone has had long experience and his place will be one of the best equipped in the city. The formal opening will take place today, to which all his friends are invited.
